ABOUT REBECCA

Rebecca Saunders is a trailblazer for owning your uniqueness.

She's a champagne drinking, post-it note loving, hair-free alopecian who helps female business owners turn their uniqueness into a super power, celebrate their successes and create dream lives and businesses by design.

At 22, Rebecca packed a small bag and booked a one-way ticket to Sydney with her laptop and just $500. It was here that she founded her first video production company.

Fast forward a decade and the pandemic year of 2020 became her biggest year since opening her business and she hit the 7 figure mark for the first time!

In 2022 she sold her video production business, moved to regional NSW and founded The Champagne Lounge with a simple mission - to ensure every business woman around the world never feels lonely in business again.

She's a global speaker, a podcast host and serial entrepreneur guaranteed to inspire and motivate your audience.

A NOTE FROM REBECCA

You may have noticed that I do things a little differently...

At 22, I packed a small bag and booked a one-way ticket to Sydney with my laptop and just $500. It was here that I founded my first video production company and signed global networking behemoth, LinkedIn as my first client! It's been a pinch myself moment to know that I've grown a thriving global production company from scratch.

When Covid hit, a decade of positioning and a ton of video experience saw us skyrocket into helping hundreds of business owners go virtual, and dozens of large corporates live stream. And 2020 became my biggest year in business and I hit the 7 figure mark for the first time!

The pandemic turned out not to be purely just a professional success for me, and after 25 years wearing a wig I decided that I was ready to reveal myself to the world, live an authentic life and lean into her own uniqueness!

Learning to love myself and use my uniqueness as a super power has been game changing for me, my business and the way I show up for my clients.

After selling my video business and moving to regional NSW, I launched The Champagne Lounge with one simple mission - to ensure every business woman around the world never feels lonely in business again.

It's now the #1 global online community for business women with big dreams wanting real conversations, next level connection and a whole heap of celebration.

REBECCA'S SPEAKING TOPICS

- Be Uniquely YOU - how to turn your uniqueness into your superpower.
- The success secrets of building a 7-figure business during a global pandemic.
- The Ultimate Cheer Squad - how to build a bulletproof network and supportive community.

KEYNOTE:

BE UNIQUELY YOU

TURN YOUR UNIQUENESS INTO YOUR SUPERPOWER.

In this keynote Rebecca shares her inspirational journey of entrepreneurship and of learning to love and leverage her uniqueness of having alopecia.

From arriving in Sydney with her passport, $500 and a dream; to building a 7-figure business during a global pandemic - Rebecca shares the ups and downs of betting on yourself in order to build a business that supports a life by design.

Rebecca also shares the decision making process and support network design she used to give her the confidence to step out as her true, bald self - and what that's meant for her, her business and her community.

This keynote will have you expanding your thinking, dreaming BIG and knowing that anything is possible.

You'll leave this keynote feeling inspired, motivated and full of self-confidence.

For maximum impact, this keynote is best suited to an offsite retreat environment.

"Rebecca was the perfect speaker to help create and spark amazing dialogue at our retreat event! It was so important to me to have a speaker with a story my clients could relate to, yet be surprised by.

She was captivating and our attendees felt inspired and enlightened by the sharing of her story and I KNOW they left the room feeling like they had grown, changed their mindset and expanded in their visions.

Gone are the days when we hire a generic speaker to fill a slot - Rebecca is the antithesis to boring and uninspired speakers with a powerpoint they've read a hundred times. My audience were interactive, asked questions, related and created an expansive ongoing discussion that carried on far past the speaking engagement itself, into dinner and beyond for the rest of the gathering.

Rebecca is the perfect speaker if you are looking for content that will not only hold the attention of the room but leave a lasting impression that truly impacts the actions, vision and thoughts of your audience for a long time to come!"

KEYNOTE OR WORKSHOP

CHAMPAGNE & POST-IT'S

THE CELEBRATORY SECRET SAUCE OF SUCCESS

As women we don't celebrate ourselves, our achievements and our milestones enough - and that's got to change.

For Rebecca, it all started with 6 bottles of Veuve Clicquot and a packed of pink Post-it's - yes really!

In this keynote she shares the story of how she puts her goals onto post-it notes, sticks them on bottles of her favourite champagne and put the bottles in the fridge. Every time she opens the fridge her goals are at the forefront of her mind, and every time one is achieved it's time to celebrate.

A simple ritual which has seen her celebrate big milestones, small goals and personal achievements - and a proven framework that gives your audience permission to celebrate, be proud and "be enough".

This keynote is a much needed breath of fresh-air. A reminder to pause and celebrate, rather than keep striving for the next and overlooking the achievements along the way.

You'll leave this keynote feeling invigorated, energised and connected.

Oh, and if you really want to connect with your audience then I can organise miniature bottles of bubbles, customised labels and post-it notes.

KEYNOTE OR WEBINAR

THE ULTIMATE CHEER SQUAD

HOW TO BUILD A BULLET PROOF NETWORK AND SUPPORTIVE COMMUNITY

Rebecca has built multiple global businesses and her life in Australia wholeheartedly from the ground up. It's been no easy ride, and she's learnt the hard way that you really can't do it alone.

In this thought provoking and, at times, hard hitting keynote Rebecca uses personal story, case studies and references as she shares:

- her thoughts around why we, as women, need to step up, own our uniquenesses and be comfortable in our own skin.
- why we need to be supportive of those doing things differently and not let change be feared or creativity hidden.
- how to identify who can help you on your journey and easily ask them respectfully for help with clarity and conviction.

This keynote will give you the tools, skills and confidence to ask absolutely anyone for anything.

"As a keynote speaker, Rebecca brings a deep authenticity to events. Our experience was one of inspiration, motivation and sincere emotion and connection. Rebecca was truly engaging in every sense. She is 'one of the people' and that's what resonated most."

Katherine Toates, The Marketing Department

"Rebecca lights up the screen! She embodies her brand and her message with perfect presentation and clear accessible content delivery, and she's fun! She hit the sweet-spot between professional and easy-going, and doing so gave our beginners cohort the confidence that we could create our own engaging content with the skills and resources at our disposal."

Will Tait, Future Crunch

"I was blown away by how generously Rebecca shared her wisdom with my Wing Woman Group. Her tips and hacks were so implementable - little tweaks that we could start putting into action straight away. I loved seeing everyone's faces in those mike-drop moments (pun intended!) when they realised how uncomplicated it could be. If you are looking for an engaging, knowledgeable supporter to help you build your confidence, Rebecca is the woman to have in your corner."

CONFERENCES & EVENTS

EMCEE & HOST

When emceeing or hosting an event it's my job to let the guests shine. I'll do everything in my power to entertain the crowd, make your presenters or guests comfortable and ensure everyone has a great time. Whether it's a dinner, a lunch, a conference or an event - you can count on me to always bring energy, add a touch of humour and throw in some sparkle.

Rebecca is available as an Emcee or Host at events globally, both virtually and in-person.

"Thank you for MC'ing and the Q&A! You totally put me at ease, felt like I was chatting to a friend (plus 180 other friends.) Oh - also thank you for going easy on the questions!! I'm so bad at thinking on my feet" - Nagi Maehashi, RecipeTin Eats

"Mudgee Readers' Festival recently engaged Rebecca Saunders to facilitate / MC our 'Lazy Long Lunch' at Blue Wren Farm. With over 170 people in attendance, and Nagi Maehashi — the New York Times' bestselling author of RecipeTin Eats: Dinner—headlining, we needed someone who could entertain the crowd, keep the event running smoothly, and be an appropriate facilitator for a conversation with Nagi.

It's fair to say Rebecca Saunders was an excellent choice for the job. She was funny and entertaining; everyone in the room was hanging from her every word. When it came time to interview Nagi, Rebecca asked the right questions, always ensuring that Nagi was the focus of the conversation.

We received many compliments from Long Lunch attendees who thought Rebecca made a very tricky job look easy! If you're looking for someone who's great to work with, and to do a wonderful job as an MC, I couldn't recommend Rebecca more highly."
